About the Artist - Gozo

Israeli born Gozo offers seductive and graphic fine art photography for his aptly titled show, “Earth & Sky” at The Iris Gallery, located at 47 Railroad Street, above Pearl’s Restaurant, in Great Barrington. A master of interpreting light and color, Gozo brings us images from a range of locations around the world, in both Black & White and Color. His landscapes, many with moody clouds and skies, are perfectly balanced elements of light, texture and color. Many of these images have been acquired over the past dozen years as part of a ongoing project in which he spends one month a year traveling worldwide to satisfy personal photographic explorations.

Gozo received a BA from Hebrew University and after emmigrating to the United States in 1977, attended the School of Visual Arts in New York. Today he is an advertising photographer currently based in New York City and has been recognized for his photographic excellence by Communication Arts Magazine, Graphis Magazine, Creativity Magazine, Photo District News and the International Advertising Festival of New York.

“After all the years in the business of photography, I have never lost the feeling for my own photography as an artform. I have always shot for myself, even when on an assignment for a client. I fill my free time with my own personal photography developing projects expressed in both black & white and color.” Gozo, July 2004
